WE, the Class of 1955, wish to dedicate this, the twenty-first issue of the BARNACLE, to Mr. Elliott B. MacSwan, our class advisor, and Mr. William B. Fratus, our yearbook advisor, without whose leadership and guidance, the many successes of our class could never have been realized.

We, the Barnacle Staff, hope that the following pages will be a constant and enjoyable reminder of the colorful days at Barnstable High School which were some of the happiest days of our lives.

Historians' Report

NAIVETE, anticipation, chaos, pandemonium—a vivid description of the members of the Class of "55" on their arrival at B. H. S. in September of 1949. The seniors towered over us as we timidly moved through what then seemed like a vast complicated labyrinth.

Seventh Grade:

Our activities began in the individual seventh grade Guidance Classes when we formed the "55" Club under the able supervision of Mr. Arnold Smith who has since retired from the teaching profession. In these Guidance Classes we learned the fundamentals of working and co-operating with our teachers and classmates. At the close of the year, the individual Guidance groups held picnics at various town beaches. This brought a happy ending to our first year at B. H. S.

Eighth Grade:

The "55" Club was revived in the eighth grade with Mr. William Fratus as our patient and helpful advisor. We held the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance which is sponsored annually by each new eighth grade class. It proved to be a most successful and profitable event. Many a laugh arose when Cynthia Baxter, dressed as Sadie Hawkins, eagerly pursued Bobby Bradley, who found it extremely difficult to escape. Another big event came when the time drew near for choosing courses we would follow for the remaining four years. This brought a close to our second year at B. H. S.

Freshman Year:

In our third year of Junior High, the "55" Club with Dorothy Stever as President, Berkeley Rice as Vice President, Patricia Campbell as Secretary, James Murphy as Treasurer, and Mr. Fratus again acting in an advisory capacity, began plans for the year's activities.

We sponsored a Record Hop, the first ever presented at Barnstable. Fred B. Cole, a disk jockey from a Boston radio station, acted as Master of Ceremonies. He brought his own supply of records plus a few extras which he awarded as prizes. This was the year we also had an undefeated football team, something to be long remembered.

Sophomore Year:

The first undertaking of our Sophomore year was the election of Class Officers. We elected Berkeley Rice as President, John Lewis as Vice President, Patricia Campbell as Secretary, Dorothy Stever as Treasurer, and Laurence Bearse and Mary Martin as representatives to the Student Council. With Mr. Elliott B. MacSwan as our class advisor, we delved into our first money-making projects.

During football season, we sold pins throughout the school and later held Food Sales in Hyannis and Osterville. This was the first year we were allowed to collect class dues, which proved to be the foundation of our Treasury. Our most important project for the year was the Sophomore Hop, which was held on February 19, 1953 with "Mardi Gras" as its theme and music by Roger Gott's Orchestra. Dorothy Stever, Betty Hayden, John Greene, and James Murphy headed the dance committee. Berkeley Rice and Sonja Perry were chosen king and queen.

As this year came to a close, we realized that we had begun to advance toward that coveted day of graduation and our entrance into the vast world of opportunity.

Junior Year:

Junior year began with a bang! Class Officers were Richard Elliot, President; John Lewis, Vice President; Marie Petridis, Secretary; and Dorothy Stever, Treasurer. James Murphy was elected as our representative to the Student Council.

Classmates on the football team were: Byron Drinkwater, Melvin Graves, Richard Hautenen, James Murphy, James O'Neil, James Pierce, Richard Pierce, Thomas Robinson, Matthew Rosary, Robert Souza, Paul Stearns, Peter Vegas, and Michael Renzi. James Murphy received the Ray Hostetter Award.

Committees were appointed to look into the possibility of new and different projects, the first of which was the sale of B.H.S. beanies and almanacs. We bubbled with excitement at the thought of obtaining our rings. Upon their arrival, comparing and showing them off brought even more enjoyment. In February of 1954, as was the annual procedure, the management of the candy concession was given to us by the preceding Senior Class.

Our next undertaking was the "Gala Variety Show" organized by Pat Campbell and directed by Mr. MacSwan in which numerous classmates performed and which proved to be extremely successful. We'll always remember the male members of the class who, coached by Mr. Simon Gesin, gracefully demonstrated their talents.

Janice Jacobson was assistant manager for the Girls' Basketball Team, which qualified for the semi-finals at Falmouth. The Boys' Basketball Team, with Bobby Bradley as manager, won the Cape Cod Championship after which they participated in the Tech Tourney. At the annual Boosters' Club banquet, Jimmy O'Neil received the Trophy for the most improved player.

Soon came the biggest social event of the year, the Junior Prom. With Andria Richards and Kenneth Wilson as co-chairmen, the prom committee decided on "Under the Sea" as the theme and quickly set about making various preparations. Roger Gott and his orchestra provided the music and also had the difficult task of choosing the queen, who was Pat Campbell, and her attendants, Kay Riedell and Beverly Brown. The long awaited affair was so slow in coming and passed so quickly that we wished that it could have been repeated.

Now the time had arrived for representatives to be chosen for Boys' State and Girls' State. Pat Campbell was the delegate picked by the American Legion Auxiliary to represent Barnstable High at Bridgewater State Teachers' College. Berkeley Rice and James Murphy, sponsored by the American Legion, were chosen as delegates to represent the school at the University of Massachusetts.

All these events, blended together, helped to prepare us for our last and most important year.

Senior Year:

At last, the final year, the year in which we had to work the hardest, had arrived. With a membership of about 125, we elected class officers: Berkeley Rice, President; John Lewis, Vice President; Marie Petridis, Secretary; and Dorothy Stever, Treasurer. Jean McDonough was our new representative to the Student Council. James Murphy was chosen by the Council members as the new President.

Our first activity revolved around plans for the BARNACLE. Larry Bearse, who was elected by the class as editor-in-chief, chose the following as his editing staff: Berkeley Rice, Kenneth Wilson, James Muurphy, Andria Richards, Walter Sanford, Elizabeth Martin, Francis Kelley, Faith Kelley, Judith MacLeod, Linda Thomas, Dorothy Stever, Betty Hayden, Richard Goodspeed, Patricia Campbell, Mary Martin, Roberta Hirsch, Marie Petridis, Beverly Brown, Cynthia Libby, and Richard Elliot. Mr. William Fratus consented to be BARNACLE Advisor.

We voted to have Loring Studios as photographers for the class pictures and BARNACLE. Judy MacLeod was appointed to be in charge of sittings and candid.

With Mr. Gordon Pendleton as its new coach, the Football Team, in spite of numerous injuries, proved more successful in the latter part of the season. They won the traditional Thanksgiving Day game by a narrow margin of 2-0. At the annual Football Banquet, James Murphy, captain of the team, was awarded the Hinkle Trophy for sportsmanship. Other senior members who received awards were Richard Hautanen, the Boosters' Club Trophy for most valuable lineman, and Byron Drinkwater, the Ray Hostetter award for outstanding effort and spirit.

Elected to represent the Senior Class at Kingston, Massachusetts, as Cranberry Boy and Girl were Jimmy Murphy and Jeanette Poole. Jimmy was also recognized as "Teen of the Week" by the Boston Post. It was the first time that a Barnstable student was chosen for such an honor.

Our minor projects for the year included the sale of Christmas cards with Betty Thomas as chairman and the Football Concession under the supervision of Janice Jacobson. Marie Petridis headed the committee which sold soft drinks at our home basketball games and Jeanette Poole was in charge of selling B. H. S. pins throughout the school.

The Press Bureau, of which Jean McDonough was a member in her Sophomore and Junior years, was taken over by Mrs. Catherine Towey's Journalism Class. Members of the class were Larry Bearse, Beverly Brown, Betty Hayden, Jean McDonough, and Kenny Wilson.

Two members of the Senior Class were chosen as Junior Rotarians to attend weekly meetings of the Hyannis Rotary Club. Laurence Bearse was chosen for the first half of the school year while Berkeley Rice was chosen for the last half. Berkeley Rice was also elected to represent Barnstable High School on Good Government Day, which was held in March, 1955 at the State House in Boston.

Having been selected to receive the DAR Citizenship Award for dependability, leadership, patriotism, and service, Patricia Campbell attended a dinner in Boston and visited the State House.

By his participation in various Contests and Fairs, Joseph Mello, a member of the Agricultural Course, brought numerous honors to both the class and the school. At the Brockton Fair in 1954, he won first prize (a Silver Medal and a Blue Ribbon) in the Dairy Cattle Judging Contest. Joe is also a member of the Future Farmers of America, a nationwide club.

As is the custom in early February the management of the Candy Concession was transferred to the present Junior Class.

Food Sales were held in Osterville and Barnstable on February 19, and in Hyannis on February 26. These were fairly successful and added to the Class Treasury.

"Snob Day" was held in February with many of the seniors dressed in their best "bib and tucker" and trying very hard to ignore the underclassmen.

In basketball, both the Boys' and Girls' Teams emerged as Large School Champions for the Cape. Under the coaching of Mr. Frederick Maki and the management of Robert Bradley and David Crawford, the boys entered the Principals' Tournament. In the absence of co-captains Jimmy O'Neil and Walter Sanford, they tried, but failed to qualify for the finals at Otis Air Force Base.

The Girls' Team, with Miss Katherine Nehubian as coach and Pat Campbell as captain, after a very successful season entered the finals at Otis Air Force Base, but were defeated by Sandwich.

The Class sponsored a dance on March 7 for the purpose of raising additional funds. With "March Wind" as its theme and music by the "Mello-Tones" it proved to be a tremendous success.

On March 29, the Basketball Teams were honored with a Banquet at Wimpy's Tower Room, sponsored by the Barnstable Boosters' Club. At that time fitting tribute was paid to two fine teams.

Under the direction of our class advisor, Mr. MacSwan, rehearsals for the Senior Class Play, "Hangman's Noose" went into full swing. In the cast were: Janice Jacobson, Beverly Brown, Martha Edwards, Marilyn Hinckley, Cynthia Baxter, Jean McDonough, Briar Cook, John Green, Richard Elliott, and Laurence Bearse. The scenery, under the direction of Mr. Vernon Coleman, was set up and a Dress Rehearsal was scheduled for March 24 in the afternoon for the Elementary Schools. The Main Performance was given on the evening of March 25 to a large and appreciative audience.

Many seniors who were members of the Traffic Squad recently saw duty for the last time. Marshals were appointed to succeed Chief Marshal Pat Campbell and Floor Marshals Betty Martin, Larry Bearse, and Mary Martin.

The stage is set, our last year draws to a close, we are looking forward to the Class Banquet and Class Day which will surely be pleasant remembrances to recall as part of our past activities at Barnstable High School.

FREDERICK ST. PETER

"I live in the crowd of jollity."

"Fred" is another member of our class who spends most of his time in the shop and is seen very little around the corridors. After school "Fred" is found ushering people down the aisles in the Center Theater. We wish you the best of luck in the future, "Fred".

Class Play Committee 4.

WALTER H. SANFORD, III

"If he were perfect, one would admire him more, but love him less."

"Jimmy", "George", or "Satch", as he is known by all his friends, has a facility for picking up nicknames. Over six feet, blond, and cute describe "Jimmy" perfectly. Active in basketball, golf, and activities, he still manages to maintain a high average in his studies. With his consideration for others and earnest interest in his work, "Jimmy" will certainly always be popular and successful.

PATRICIA ANN SANTRY

*"Her ways are the ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace."*

"Pat" seems to be very quiet and demure, but those who really know her say that she is full of "vim and vigor". Her friendly attitude is displayed towards people when "Pat" is found working at the Hyannis Pharmacy.

Bowling 2; Majorette 4; Clipper 2; '55 Club 1; Glee Club 2, 3, 4.

HOWARD W. SEARS, JR.

"He looks as quiet as a lamb, but look again!"

"Winnie" is the tall slender boy who is always the first to laugh at a good joke. Outstandingly neat in dress, his ability to smile at all embarrassing situations with perhaps just a slight blushing is just one of the reasons why "Winnie" is a very enjoyable person to know.

"Thoughts seem to come and go in large brown eyes."

"Souz", one of the great assets to our football team, is known around B.H.S. for his sense of humor and his jokes. "Bobby" is also the left fielder on our baseball team, which makes him a two-letter man. "Bobby's" plans for the future are uncertain, but we wish him the best of luck in whatever they may be.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Traffic Squad 2; Intramural Soccer 4.

PAUL GARY SOUZA

"Content with silence."

Paul is the new boy seen around the halls of B.H.S. this year. Paul comes to us from Case High School in Swansea, Massachusetts. Although quiet and reserved, he has managed to win many friends. We certainly wish Paul the best of happiness and success in the years to come.

JOHN PAUL STEARNS

"No sinner, yet no saint perhaps."

Tall, cute, and full of fun are a few of the adjectives that describe Paul. If you see a dark green Model "A" Ford, better known in social circles as the "Green Buzzard", you may be sure that Paul will be behind the wheel. Although he has played football well since the eighth grade, his marks have never suffered. We all wish you loads of luck in the future, Paul.

MARTHA ELAINE STEIN

"It is the quiet worker who succeeds."

Although around school Elaine may be seldom heard, you ought to see her on the bus or at home listening to "Dixie-land". Elaine's fun-loving nature has made her a good friend to know. We wish you lots of luck in the future.

"Creeping like a snail, unwillingly to school."

"Eddie" is a member of the Carpentry Course at B.H.S. and belongs to the National Guard. Although reserved in school, "Eddie" can often be seen with his jovial companions riding around after school. After graduation, "Eddie" plans to make carpentry his vocation.

Class Play 4.

ELIZABETH ANNE THOMAS

"The hand that bath made you fair bath made you good."

"Betty" has a quiet charm that few others have. An efficient and capable business student, we're sure that if she is as friendly and competent in her future job as she was in school, she will be successful.

Orchestra 1, 2; Band 1; Clipper 2; Senior Dance Committee 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Boosters' Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Red Cross 1, 2, 3, 4.

BARBARA ANN TOBIN

"Would that she had been more among us."

Barbara is a new girl this year, but she certainly has been a wonderful girl to have as a classmate. She is very quiet, but she has a terrific sense of humor. She is a very talented pianist, and we hope that someday she will become a well-known performer. Good luck!

PAUL WINDSOR VANBUREN

"A nest of thoughts revealed not."

Paul can always be found walking from class to class with a smile and hello for everyone. After school Paul can be found working at the Tydol Station in Barnstable. Some of his out-of-school interests are basketball, golf, fishing, and hunting. When graduation rolls around, he plans to work with the F.B.I. We wish him all the luck in the world.

Glee Club 4.

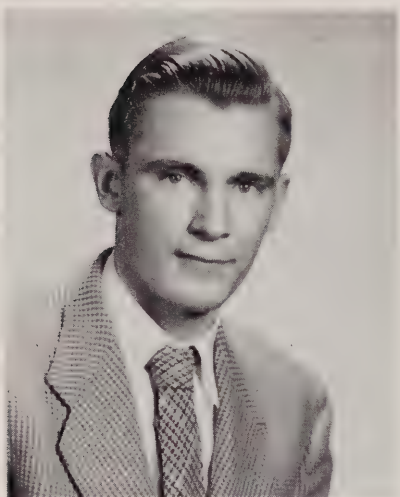

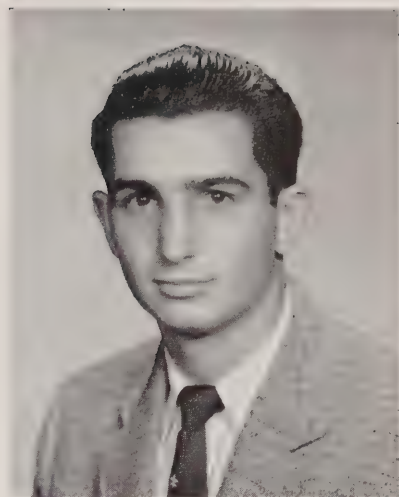

PETER VEGLAS

"Laugh and he will."

Peter, better known to all as "Nutmeg", has been the cause of many an outburst of laughter in class. He enjoys a good joke even if it's on himself. "Nutmeg's" ability in sports proved quite effective during football season. We all know that Peter will go forward in the world.

Football 3, 4; Senior Dance Committee 4; Glee Club 4; Junior Red Cross 2, 3, 4.

JAMES ALLAN WALKER

"The mirror of all courtesy."

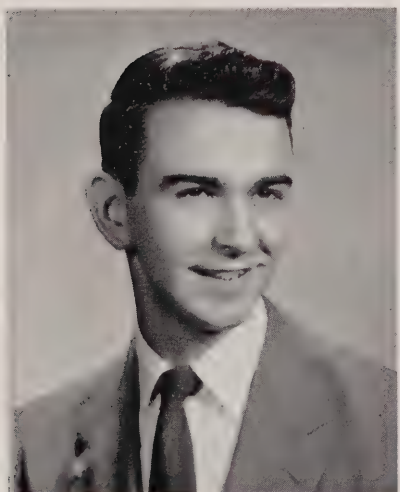

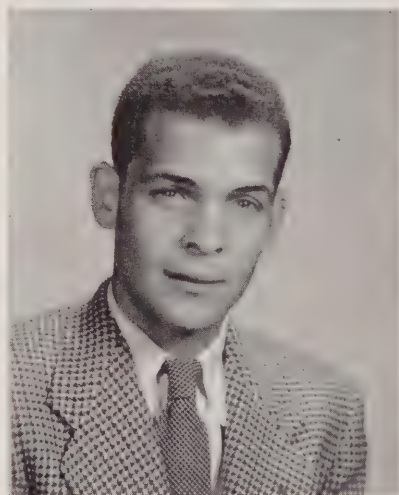

"Jim" is a hard working lad with lots of ambition in the line of cars. We know we will never have to worry about a good mechanic when we get out of school, as "Jim" will always rate first in our books—both mechanically and personality-wise. We know that you will go a long way, "Jim", and we wish you all the luck in the world.

OLIVER H. WASHINGTON

*"Tomorrow do thy worst,
For I have lived today!"*

"Ollie" is one of the quietest members of our class. The only time we see any action from him is when he gets into that new Chrysler of his. He is a very friendly person. We hope that he has much success in the future.

'55 Club 1.

RICHARD CLIFFORD WHITE

"Go to it, oh jazzman!"

Here is the best dressed lad in our class. His friendly sense of humor makes it a pleasure to have him around. He plays a really "keen" set of drums, which is only one of his talents. Good luck!

Senior Dance Committee 4; Glee Club 4; Junior Class Talent Show 3; Traffic Squad 3.

KENNETH ELDREDGE WILSON, JR.

"Ambition is the root of success."

"Kenny" is certainly a welcome addition to our football team. Outstanding both on and off the field as a good sport, his ability to lead was shown by his co-chairmanship of the Junior Prom Committee. We don't think anyone could ever forget those rides to Boston for the decorations. We wish you a world of success, "Kenny", starting at Dartmouth, of course!

Class Prophecy

June 3, 1975

Dear Faith,

I was so pleased to receive your letter. My, hasn't twenty years passed quickly! It seems that only a while ago you left for Hollywood—and now you're tops on Broadway. I was also pleased to hear that Francis made another successful flight in his rocket ship—I often thought he'd go far.

By the way, did you know that Teddy Arvanitis and Bob Baxter are co-owners of Northeast Airlines now? Mary Martin and Janice Jacobson were working as airline hostesses for them, but have now resigned, to return to their nursing careers. Cynthia Baxter is still around. She and her family are on a coast-to-coast television program, "I Love Laughter". It's quite the show. John Greene is still debating whether or not he should get married. He's had a ring bought more than once, but hasn't made the final step yet! Elvera Jones is a very busy girl now. I'll never know how she keeps her home so lovely and keeps her position as secretary for Dr. Sanford, too. Jim is a dentist over in Wianno. He specializes in bridge work. Because so many people get their teeth knocked out by golf balls, his business is always booming. You know Peter Hallet is "pro" over there. He has been ever since he left Cummaquid. Incidentally, Paul Chesbro and Winslow Sears are outstanding golfers there, too! Andria Richards still is quite skillful in her dress-making. Her shop is the busiest in town. Bev Brown models the clothes for her. She always did wear clothes well, didn't she?

Marilyn Hinckley works part time at the New England Telephone Company. The rest of the time she's busy answering calls. Joan and Betty Chase are excellent dieticians at the Cape Cod Hospital, and Donnie Hull is one of the head physicians there, too! Briar Cook, Fred Littlefield, Rex Musgrave and Kenny Wilson are "top-notch" members of the M.H.T.F.A. That's the Massachusetts Hunters, Trappers, and Fisherman's Association. I understand that it is quite a profitable organization. No doubt you've heard that Pat Campbell has just been elected state representative for the Republican Party in replacement of Larry Bearse, who has recently entered the White House where he will live for some years to come, we hope. Our class was full of politicians, though. Byron Drinkwater, Bradford Dewey and Kenneth Bradbury are still prominent judges on the Cape, and Jimmy Murphy is now on the Board of Selectmen. Berkeley Rice, who is a successful lawyer, will probably be running for governor next year. Cynthia Libby became quite famous for her square dance calling. Ronald Dixon is in show business, too. He is an actor, singer, dancer, and comedian; and quite busy, I'd say. Richard McMahon is the local district manager for Stop & Stop, which means he travels quite a bit. That's tough on his car; but John Kingsbury, "ace mechanic," keeps Dick's car in good shape. John and Jim Walker are in business together, with Francis Richards as a silent partner. Billy Aalto has quite a business, too. He doesn't sell pony rides anymore—he sells the ponies. Mary Ann Alexandre bought one for her children to ride and Mary Lou Baker brings her little boys over to get "free rides." Dick Elliott is about to retire from the Air Force with one of the greatest flying records! ! Tom Robinson is an officer in the Marines and Dick Pierce is now getting his pension from the Coast Guard. I wish we could all retire at 39! Betty Hayden owns the local paper. She and Jean McDonough—they operate the Standard Times—went a long way in the field of Journalism. Lorraine Doherty draws cartoons for them. Ronald Jordan is a farmer. He always wanted to raise his own cows, but I know he wouldn't have been so successful if Craig Medeiros hadn't "shown him the ropes". Larry and Joe Mello have something to be proud of. Together they have the biggest poultry farm in the Eastern part of the country. All the local housewives—

Pat Santry, Marilyn Jones, Jenny Lampi, and Kay Riedell—say that the eggs and chickens fresh from “Mello Farm” are the greatest; and they should know! Bob Bradley, Red Sox Manager, said his team will take the pennant again this year. This will make six straight, won’t it? The Thomases—Betty, Helen, and Linda—have quite a problem now. They married three fellows with the same last name and everyone is still confused! Sydney Savage was a Power’s model before she married, but Sandra McManus filled the position very nicely when Sydney left. Meredith Perry was voted “All American Girl” in 1960 for her participation in various types of sports, and Judy Pierce was famous at that time for her “Ballet in Blue”. John Lewis followed in the footsteps of his father and mastered the plumbing profession. Jackie Tulloch followed the path of her dad, too, when she became the first woman sheriff of Barnstable County. Roberta Hirsch gives driving lessons in a modern vehicle where one needs not shift, push peddles, or give signals. The car does all that automatically. Roberta, we might say, teaches Steering. Jeanette Poole is a school teacher. She has taught most of our children and soon will be teaching our grandchildren, should we be so fortunate. Betsy Fernandes has the second grade now. She was telling me how cute little Jack Lorrett is and a “hot ticket”, like his dad was in our class. Judy MacLeod has left for Florida where she is vacationing with her family for the winter. Marie Petridis is giving her annual piano concert at Music Hall in New York City. Her guest will be the once-famed Liberace. It’s too bad Judy had to miss this. Dick White is in New York, too, making several recordings with his band. Man, that guy’s real gone!

Donald Montcalm owns a gas station. He calls it the “Grin and Bear It” service station. It’s near Jimmy Collins’ Smiling Service Station on Centerville Road. I wonder if there is any connection. Melissa Cash, Marion Higgins, and Pat Kenneally all work in local banks. They take good care of our money, but who has money these days? Kathleen Hansberry must have some—or she did before she bought her new Caddie convertible last month. Business must be good in Osterville. Martha Edwards sells furs: coats, capes, stoles, etc.; but with summer coming on, I think she’d better start selling bathing suits. Did you know Donnie Coombs won a trip to Alaska two years ago, and he hasn’t returned yet. Maybe he didn’t realize it was only a one-way ticket. Robert Cotton will have to get out his blood hounds and search for him. Judy Leach has recently sold her house and moved out West where she is operating a rodeo. Donnie Ford recently bought out General Motors, so now almost every car on the road has to belong to this one big monopoly. Dotty Stever is quite busy, too. She took over Miss Hayden’s job at B. H. S. Betsy Sylvester is teaching history there, I think, and John Rodgers teaches in his father’s shop. Catherine Simms works in a hotel in Boston and Peter Veglas owns a hotel and restaurant in the South where Paul Stearns, who is a traveling salesman, stops once in awhile to check up on Pete’s cooking. It’s pretty good, I understand. David Herman runs his own taxi service. He always was willing to give us a ride! Jim O’Neil works with him. David Jones has a tremendous trucking outfit and Fred McLean and Paul Van Buren do some of the driving for him, but they make sure they never miss the Greatest Fights of the Century on TV. Mel Graves was on last week in a review of his 1961 championship fight. Mickey Renzi was tops in sports also, especially football.

Louetta Perry is employed as a bookkeeper in one of the local offices and Sheila Golden works for a doctor. Elaine Stein is in Hollywood writing for some theatrical company, isn’t she? Merle Gass has a jewelry store in New York on Fifth Avenue. Rodney Niskula lives in New Hampshire on a dairy farm and Oliver Washington has opened a large store where he sells Rodney’s products, which I hear are the best to be had. Barbara Tobin didn’t stay on the Cape very long, but I heard she would like to come back someday, if just to see some of her friends. Paul Souza is a college professor and Joe Medeiros owns an opera house in Chicago. Nancy Eaton and her family recently moved away, and I assume Eddie Ellis moved most of their furniture in his moving vans. Bob Frimodig collects antiques now and sells them to various buyers at quite a profitable price. George Houle owns a large grocery store down on Bearse's Way, and I understand Allan Marchant and Peter Henault work there with him. Edward Peters is employed in an automotive industry in Michigan where he makes and sells machinery for cars. Dick Hautanen and Richard Goodspeed went to California soon after graduation. Do you ever see them? Edward Thew, Arthur Edwards, and Robert Souza went on a fishing trip to the northern part of Nova Scotia. They had a mighty successful catch! Did you know that Walt Ryder is the new Athletic coach at Barnstable High? He and Manuel Roderick studied at several schools together and "Manny" coaches football at Yale now.

James Pierce works for Donald Robinson, who owns an "auto body and paint shop."

Alvin Peters is working on his latest invention, a device for making the sun shine on rainy April days. It looks quite promising, too! (This modern generation).

I was talking to Liola Morsè a while ago, and she said Henry is a lumberjack out West in the great forests of Oregon. Fred St. Peter is the manager at the Hyannis Theater now, and every now and then he gives me a few special passes.

Well, Faith, that's all for now. I hope you've enjoyed reading about our friends and classmates. I must get back to the school now because I have another English class scheduled in ten minutes.

Sincerely,

Betty

Standing: J. Richards, M. Martin, L. Bearse, J. McDonough, N. Desmond.

THIS year the Student Council, under the guidance of Mr. Henry C. Levinson, had its greatest dream realized in the establishment of the Barnstable Chapter of the National Honor Society at Barnstable High School.

As usual, the members of the council served as guides for parents at the annual open house held at the high school, conducted the balloting for the student body elections, and elected the head marshal and three floor marshals for the new traffic squad.

A senior member, Laurence Bearse, represented the Student Council on a Bill of Rights panel, which was the feature of a "Citizens in a Democracy" Day held at the West Parish Meeting House, West Barnstable, on April 14.

Traffic Squad

THE Traffic Squad, under the leadership of Mr. Henry Levinson, faculty advisor, and Chief Marshal Patricia Campbell, has done excellent work keeping the corridors in order while students file to and from classrooms.

Journalism

WHO?—twelfth grade students interested in writing.

WHAT?—journalism class.

WHY?—to encourage and train students in writing.

WHEN?—third period.

WHERE?—room 108.

The traditional five W's above are used to describe an activity new this year—the journalism class.

Students in this group, under the guidance of Mrs. Catherine Towey, have studied the basic fundamentals of journalism and the problems connected with the make-up of modern newspapers.

These pupils, acting as the School Press Bureau, have written a weekly column called "Raider Ramblings" and have supplied press releases for the local papers.

Senior Members of the Chorus

THE mixed chorus, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Barton and Mr. Simon Gesin, had one of its most successful seasons this year.

The entire organization sang at the Barnstable County Teachers' Convention, for the Christmas Pageant, and at the Christmas assemblies. Some members took part in the New England Music Festival and the Cape Cod Music Festival.

This is the largest extracurricular group in the school.

Barnstable High School Band

ONE of the big attractions at the football games was the colorful and peppy B. H. S. band directed by Mr. Simon Gesin. The snappy music and high-stepping majorettes helped keep up the morale of the Barnstable rooters.

As usual the band took part in the Armistice Day and Memorial Day parades and helped welcome Santa Claus to Hyannis.

Seated: J. Alberghini, D. Horgan, M. O'Brien, R. Hodge, Mr. Kilcoyne, M. Petridis, N. Desmond, S. Gallant.

Standing: D. Trimble, R. Williams, E. MacManus, C. Syriala, N. Nault, Mr. Hodge, B. Rice, L. Bearse, D. Weaver, B. Sandler.

National Honor Society

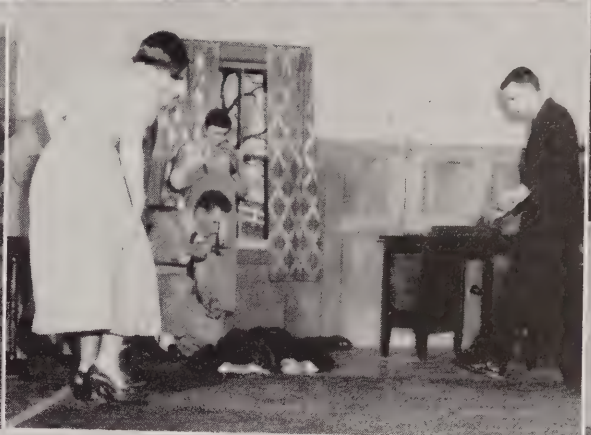

Consider the scholar:

"Many shall praise his wisdom, and it shall never be forgotten. The memory of him shall not depart away, and his name shall be in request from generation to generation. Nations shall declare his wisdom, and the church shall show forth his praise. If he continue, he shall leave a name above a thousand: and if he rest, it shall be to his advantage." Ecclesiastes 39:12-15

The Barnstable Chapter of the National Honor Society was established this year at Barnstable High School, with Mr. John J. Kilcoyne as the sponsor.

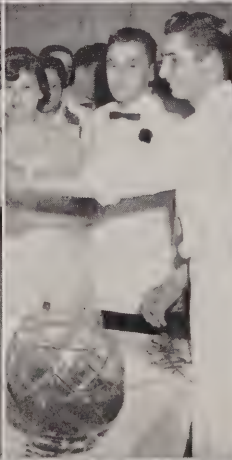

In a very impressive ceremony held on the ninth of March, sixteen students were inducted into the Honor Society during a senior high school assembly to which the parents of the new members had been invited. During the ceremony, the students were presented National Honor Society certificates and pins by Mr. Harvard H. Broadbent.

The National Honor Society, requested by the Student Council and established by a faculty committee, has become a permanent goal for the students of Barnstable High School.

Football

BACKED by veterans Carlton Crocker, Jim Ellis, Byron Brinkwater, Carl Syriala, Paul Stearns, and Bob Souza, our new mentor, Mr. Gordon Penleton, launched the first game of the schedule with hopes for a great season.

However, these hopes received a jolting as Coyle High squeezed by the Raiders with a 12-0 victory. Nor did the next four games prove to be more successful. The injury-riddled Barnstable team was defeated by New Bedford, 18-13; by New Bedford Vocational, 27-13; by Fairhaven, 20-6; and by an exceptionally powerful Wareham combine, 47-6. However, the loss to Wareham was the last to be seen by the Barnstable fans. The Raiders leaped back with amazing force to crush Plymouth, 27-6. On the following Saturday they clashed with a strongly favored Hingham team that had to fight to secure a 0-0 tie. The next and final encounter, the traditional "Turkey Day" game, with an old rival, Falmouth High proved to be a much closer contest than Barnstable rooters had anticipated. The Raiders barely pulled out a 2-0 victory from their stubborn opponent.

Thus the Red Raiders completed the season with a 2-1-5 mark, which is more impressive than it seems. For the Raiders had the spirit and will to win which enabled them to fight their way into the victory column after a slow and shaky start. This feat could not have been accomplished without the superb coaching of Mr. Pendleton and Mr. MacSwan.

Individual honors went to Carlton Crocker who was voted the most valuable backfield player; to Dicky Hautanen, who received an award as B.H.S.'s top lineman; and to Byron Drinkwater who received the Ray Hostetter award for the player who exemplified outstanding effort and spirit. The twentieth Hinkle Trophy was presented to Jimmy Murphy.

Raiders Capture Large School Basketball Championship

COACH Fred Maki opened the season with a strong nucleus composed of co-captains Jim O'Neil and Jim Sanford, Walter Ryder, Carlton Crocker, Mel Graves, and Win Sears, and with ample reserves. The first game was played on the hardwood court of Barnstable High School where the Red Raiders trounced ill-fated Falmouth 80-53. This was a sample of what the opposition had to face.

Provincetown was the next team to be defeated by the Raiders. But in the next three games, the strong Barnstable team was halted momentarily, as off-Cape teams New Bedford Voke, Fairhaven, and Plymouth won those closely contested tilts. These defeats, however, did not hamper the Raiders, for they met their strong rival, Yarmouth, and nipped them 31-30. In the games that followed, the Raiders picked up three wins and lost another one to powerful Fairhaven. Again it was time for the rivals to be pitted against each other, and as before, it was a see-saw battle. Not only did the Raiders defeat Yarmouth, but they also won the Large School League Championship by a slim margin of 3 points.

Having won the Large School League Championship, the Maki-men entered the Principals' Association Tournament with hopes of having the same success as previously. However, to everyone's surprise, they were defeated by their first opponent, Chatham.

Thus ended Barnstable High School's successful basketball season. The success may be attributed to the great support and spirit of the student body, the outstanding coaching job of Mr. Maki, and the leadership of co-captains Jim O'Neil and Jim Sanford. The rebounding of Walt Ryder and Mel Graves and the fighting spirit of the whole team, also, were contributing factors in their success.

Girls' Basketball

THIS years girls' basketball team deserves everyone's congratulations for its terrific display of spirit and expert ball-handling.

The Raiderettes opened their season with Falmouth and won 64-20. They then challenged Provincetown at home and came out on top, 56-44. Coach Katherine M. Nehubian said that her team's passwork during the game was exceptional. The next two contests were victories for the girls as they trimmed Wareham, 45-23, and Harwich, 51-41. The Raiderettes then faced Wareham and were upset by a score of 34-29. Next, in a fast moving game against their rivals, the Raiderettes defeated the previously undefeated Yarmouth girls, 52-41. Nothing could stop them now!

The girls held to the top position by victories against Falmouth, 81-40, and Provincetown, 44-32. The Raiderettes two games with Bourne gave them very little trouble with scores of 83-45 and 65-48. For the last game on the schedule, Barnstable again faced their rival, Yarmouth, and played one of the most thrilling games of the season. The margin of victory was 76-69 for the Raiderettes. This victory gave them the Large School Championship and a play-off spot in the Principals' Tournament at the Otis Air Force Base against Sandwich. Although they lost to Sandwich, the Raiderettes played an exciting game.

Coach Nehubian's girls ended the season with ten wins and two defeats, including the tournament. The second team had a record of nine wins and one defeat.

At the annual Booster's Club Banquet, Patricia Campbell was presented a trophy for "Most Improved Player" and Eileen Santry was awarded a trophy for the "Most Valuable Player".

Cheerleaders

THE Cheerleaders of 1954-55 did an outstanding piece of work in keeping the spirits of the fan's and team's high during the football and basketball seasons.

Indian Outfits, the new adornment of the Cheerleaders came on the scene this year. To defray the cost of their new uniforms the Cheerleaders sold cards and stationery.

In December the girls held the Cheerleader's Hop which was a grand success
